Legislation

Legal provision	Main effect
The Medicines (Aristolochia and Mu Tong etc.) (Prohibition) Order 2001 SI 1841	Not permissible to manufacture, import, sell or supply any unlicensed medicine in the UK which contains the named herbal ingredients. See Annex 1 which explains in more detail the provisions relating to all Aristolochia and ingredients at risk of confusion with Aristolochia species.
The Human Use Regulations 2012 Regulation 214	Prescription Only Medicines (POMs) can only be made available via a prescription from a registered doctor or dentist.
The Human Use Regulations 2012 No. 1916 Schedule 20 Part 1	Prohibits the sale or supply (including general retail or following a one-to-one consultation with a practitioner) of herbal medicines in the UK, if it contains one or more of the listed plants, except where sold in premises which are registered pharmacies and by or under the supervision of a pharmacist.
The Human Use Regulations 2012 No. 1916 Schedule 20 Part 2	Plants listed in Part 2 can only be sold in herbal medicines following a one-to-one consultation with a practitioner, at the dosages in column 2 or percentage of the substance in the product not exceeding that specified in column 3. If the dosage (or percentage of the substance in the product) specified is exceeded,

Legal provision	Main effect
The Medicines for Human Use (Kava-kava) (Prohibition) Order 2002 SI 3170	the herbal medicines containing these plants can only be supplied in premises which are registered pharmacies and by or under the supervision of a pharmacist.
The Medicines for Human Use (Prohibition) (Senecio and Miscellaneous Amendments) Order 2008	Prohibits the sale, supply or importation of any medicine for human use which consists of or contains a plant, or part of a plant, belonging to the species Senecio or an extract from such a plant.
